

JANUARY, 2012 WHAT'S NEW AT BACKYARD BIRDS - PLYMOUTH ?

Gary's State of the Birding World Musings for this new year...

Welcome to January! Now that our feathered and furry friends have opened their Christmas gifts and are luxuriating in their new feeders and homes, it's time to say hello to the official winter feeding season! The bird guys tend to eat heartier this time of year, so we at Backyard Birds are putting all seed, suet and even feeders on sale for the entire month of January - See our ad accessed by clicking on the words "Current Specials" on our Home page.

Also, two important reminders of approaching winter fun in Plymouth:

- 1. The Plymouth Ice Festival takes place Friday, January 20th through Sunday, January 22nd.
- 2. Sophie The Cat's Annual Birthday Party will be celebrated at Backyard Birds on Saturday, February 4th & Sunday, February 5th. The TRUE Winter Fun Event in Plymouth has expanded, like Sophie's size, into a 2-day special event. Sophie invites you, one and all, to come to BYB to join in the fun, enjoy eats and special savings and celebrate HER.
